"PENNSY" VS. TIGERS

A Desperate Battle Expected on the Trenten Fair Grounds.

U. of P. Interference Opposed to Princeton's Running Tactics.

How the Elevens Will Line Up on the Gridiron.

(Special to The Evening World.) FAIR GROUNDS, TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 10.—As the day dawned in sleet and driving winds, all who had the thought of the big football struggle here to-day between those hereditary antagonists Princeton and Pennsylvania, uppermost in their minds, were reminded of the similar conditions which prevailed at the conquest of Manheim last Nov. 4. Then as now, Pennsylvania's heavier team were supposed to profit by the muddy field, but Princeton won the day by

Last year Penn's chief weakness wa at the tackles, and Minds or Farrar and Wagenhurst are likely to be the vulnerable points to-day, as Capt. Mackey and ble points to-day, as Capt. Mackey and Rease and Cregan were at Manheim last Nov. 4. Princeton's weakness last year was in punting; now her full-back, Cochran, le said to be doing clever work, but, of course, he will not equal the veteran Brooke, the best kicker Penn-sylvania ever had. Poe, at quarter, will naturally suffer by the inevitable comparison with Phil King, who played that hazardous position for Frinceton last year, while Riggs will be criticized if he does not hold Bull, Penn's centre, as successfully as Halliet did Thornton last year. Smith is likely to do quite as well as Brown did at left end then, and should-equal Rosengarten, who will represent Penn as his vis-a-vis.

HALF-BACK WARD. HALF-BACK WARD

Last year Princeton was outclassed, but she depended for success upon her line's strong defense and end skirting backs. Under well-drilled interference Pennsylvania relied, and quite successfully, too. upon "Woodruff's interferences," as his coacher's new system of offence was known. This year conditions quite similar are likely to obtain.

Though Princeton has met somewhat better teams this yer than Pennsylvania, and while her line is almost identical with last year's champion array of forwards, there is no sound reason why Princeton should be a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting, unless Princeton's undergraduates are twice as to say the Tigers will pass ten to their score.

What promises victory more than any other thing to the Pennsylvania mind is Coach Woodruf's position. For the first time in his connection with the University, he anticipates victory. He now says of them:
"We are prepared to meet every style of play Princeton can bring forth. We have studied her strength and how she could best use it, and have prepared to meet these plays. Unless she tries some startling new and wonderfully effective play, we shall defeat her."

Vale is actually going to play Lehigh here to day. After persistently refusing to play on Man-hattan Field at all this year, Manager Cable wired to Receiver Freedman, asking under what terms the field could be secured. In order to appease the college dictators, Mr. Freedman agreed to take the Polo grounds for the day and leave the Manhattan Field's turf undisturbed. this end it is found necessary to issue bonds they will be issued without the least hesitation; but no action of this kind is in immediate contemplation.

If there should be heavy and continued withdrawais of gold for export it might be necessary in order to maintain the Government credit to place another loan, but the present conditions do not warrant such action.

A subordinate official of the treasury department, in speaking of the matter, said that these reports were put in circulation by a certain class of Wall street brokers for the sole purpose of influencing the market, while others gave them circulation in the hope of forcing an issue.

It can be stated with the utmost positiveness that there are no preparations now being made at the Treasury for another bond issue.

BOND ISSUED FAVORED.

Financiers Take Kindly to the Idea of a $50,000,000 Loan.

The chief topic of discussion in financial circles to-day was the reopted intention of the Administration to issue a new Government loan, as foreshadowed by "The Evening World" some days ago.

It is stated that a close friend of President Cleveland recently interviewed officials of leading banks and prominent bankers with the view of ascertaining their opinions as to the way a new toom would be received and that he was able to make a favorable report to the President.

Assistant Treasurer Jordan went to Washingston, last night, presumably to digeuss the question of a bond issue, which may be for $50,000,000 or possibly to digeuss the question of a bond issue, which may be for $50,000,000 or possibly to digeuss the question of a bond issue, which may be for $50,000,000 or possibly to digeuss the question of a bond issue, which may be for $50,000,000 or possibly to digeuss the question of a bond issue, which may be for $50,000,000 or possibly to digeuss the question of a bond issue, which may be for $50,000,000 or possibly to digeuss the question of a bond issue, and the probable passage by the proper of the legislature to consider the probable passage by the di

Chairman Carroll, of the Democratic Committee, confidently insists that these counties, connoting insists that these counties will not be able to wipe out Turney's present lead. The Republican Committee still claim Evans's election. There is a great deal of interest being shown, and some talk of fraud on both sides, though the returns have come in quicker than after any previous election.

Frederick Elger, jr., whose big establishment at 908 Eleventh avenue supplies nearly all the grocers on the west side with bread, voiced the sentiments of the Wholesale Bakers' Association last night when he said:
